ADM Advantage℠ Expert Contract

Put a portion of your grain marketing in the hands of the experts.

Marketing is just one part of the important work you do, but it takes constant attention. That's why ADM offers you the ADM Advantage℠ Expert Contract—a contract in which the futures price is set by the marketing experts.

Here's How It Works

1) You choose the crop you want to sell, your delivery period and the marketing expert you'd like to make the pricing decisions.

2) The marketing expert then advises to price futures on your behalf and ADM establishes the final futures reference price on your contract based solely on their pricing decisions.

3) Prior to grain delivery, you set the basis. That's it. You may be able to roll to a deferred delivery period.

4) The final cash price is the ADM Advantage Expert Futures Reference Price +/− Basis − Service Fee.

You Choose:
